CHINESE NEW YEAR EXTENDED

The Chinese government has extended Chinese New Year holiday celebrations through February 2, 2020, due to the spread of Wuhan Coronavirus. Additionally, some local governments have announced additional extensions through February 9, 2020.

Several carriers are reporting that there has been little disruption to sailing schedules at this point.

We have been advised that United Airlines has cancelled 24 upcoming flights to China. According to reports travel bans to China are being considered by the United States.

UFO will continue to monitor your cargo and the situation in China. Our staff will notify you with any delays as they are identified. As always we encourage you to be in communication with your customers in China to expedite clearance and delivery to prevent potential demurrage charges during Chinese New Year closures.

Thank you for your continued support.
